DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

It is noted that the claims of the instant application have been determined to include linking claims. Claim 1 link(s) inventions I-II, as set forth below. The restriction requirement among the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim(s), claim 1. Upon the allowance of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be entitled to examination in the instant application. Applicant(s) are advised that if any such claim(s) depending from or including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) is/ are presented in a continuation or divisional application, the claims of the continuation or divisional application may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 44 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Group I, claim(s) 2-12, as specifically drawn to methods of defining the differentiation grade of tumor with genes selected by the statistical analyses based on the polynucleotide expression level or pattern of the genes of human tumor tissues obtainable from cancer patients.

Group II, 2-12, as specifically drawn to methods of defining the differentiation grade of tumor with proteins selected by the statistical analyses based on the polypeptide expression level or pattern of the proteins encoded by genes of human tumor tissues obtainable from cancer patients.

Group III, claim(s) 13, drawn to a kit comprising DNA chips, oligonucleotide chips, protein chips, probes or primers that detect gene expression.

Group IV, claim(s) 14, drawn to use of genes and/or proteins for screening anti-cancer agents.

Art Unit: 1642

Group V, claim(s) 15, drawn to use of antibodies specific for genes and/or proteins for treating tumors in different grades.

The inventions listed as groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The technical feature linking groups I-V appears to be that they all relate to the special technical feature of methods of defining the differentiation grade of tumor with genes selected by the statistical analyses based on the expression level or pattern of the genes of human tumor tissues obtainable from cancer patients.

However, Okabe et al (Cancer Research, March 2001, 61: 2129-2137) teaches methods of defining the differentiation grade of tumor with genes selected by the statistical analyses based on the polynucleotide expression level or pattern of the genes of human tumor tissues obtainable from cancer patients (see page 2129, 2136, and 2137, in particular).

Therefore, the technical feature linking the inventions of groups I-V does not constitute a special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2, as it does not define a contribution over the prior art.

Accordingly, groups I-V are not so linked by the same or a corresponding special technical feature as to form a single general inventive concept.

Species

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Claims 1-15 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species of products and methods represented by distinct genes. Each combination of genes represents a distinct species. The species do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The methods of the above species differ at least in objectives, method steps, reagents, and criteria for success such that one species could not be interchanged with the other. Further, the products of each species represent separate and distinct products which are made by materially different methods, and are used in materially different methods which have different modes of operation, different functions and different effects. Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
